a large number of Swine on the way, which are detailed on account of the storm, and were not able to cross the lake.

Married.

April 23d, by Rev. S. M. Rogers, Mr. Joseph GREENE, of Weybridge, to Miss SARAH A. DANIELS, of Bristol.

In East Pointington on the 27th ult., by the Rev. G. Strong, Mr. Lewis N. Mansfield of East Pointington, to Miss JANE A. DAVIS, of Fairfield.

Died.

In this village, on the 27th April, Miss FRANCES A. SHAW, aged 21 years.

We have part in sadness,
But her dim eyes still gleam;
A bright land shall we—

She has gone to inherit,
A home with her God,
In the land of the spirits,
No mortal had trod.

We shall meet with sweet Francis

On that distant shore;

Where disease and decline

Of life will be over.

There where she has parted,

In beauty shall bloom,

Where no hearts ever are shaded

With sorrow and gloom.

In this town, on the 25th ult., Mrs. LUCILLE DEWEY, aged 80 years.

Papers in Massachusetts, Ohio and Wisconsin
please copy.

In Rockford, Ill., on the 29th ult., FRANCIS A., wife of E. W. Blaisdell, Jr., former editor of the Vergennes Vermonter, aged 23 years.

In Fair Haven, April 15, of consumption,
Miss ELIZABETH DENISON, aged 28, daughter of Dr. J. Denison.

Her painful sufferings were borne with Christian fortitude and resignation, knowing that her final judge would be a righteous one.

Her spirit has wafted its way to the skies,
Where no earth's woes can grieve it out, even Her Savior has owned her and called her to him.

In triumph to dwell eternally.

At Concord Springs, April 15th, ANNE
A., only son of Russell and Adeline Atwood, in the 25th year of his age.

This, in the bloom of life, death has severed the endearing ties which bound him to earth, and has taken from amidst our circle a friend, whose departure we deeply mourn.

Bitter is the anguish of his fond parents,

Dear sons and loving companions. They are bereft of a son, who was a true and good and promising. They have endeavored to bid the grave—but not without a hope which views beyond death a livelier sphere. He was truly an amiable person, an ornament in the domestic circle, and a peaceful and upright citizen. He lived respected and beloved, and died lamented.

CHARLES G. COOPER.
